TO WATERY GRAVE PASSENGERS SINK

Sixty-Six Plunge To Death
In Watery Grave.

Horrible Catastrophe on Traction
Line Near Atlantic City on Sunday.

SEVERAL MEN PROVE HEROES.

Sixty-six persons dead, and two scores injured, is the estimate this morning of fatalities in yesterday's electric railway horror. Most of the dead are still buried in the submerged cars. It is impossible to give an accurate list until the bodies are removed by divers. All night by light electric globes men toiled to get out bodies of the victims. The coaches by force of the fall from the trestle, sunk deep into the mud at the bottom of the stream.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 29.—Fifty seven passengers on the West Jersey and Coast Electric railroad were hurled to a watery grave Sunday afternoon when the entire train plunged from a trestle over the "Thoroughfare," a body of water separating Atlantic City from the mainland.

The train, composed of three cars well filled with mostly women and children fell 15 feet and was almost instantly submerged in 20 feet of water.

There were about 50 passengers on the train and many escaped through the heroic actions of some of the train crew and passengers. Nearly all of those who escaped were more or less seriously injured and are suffering greatly from shock.

Outside Rail "Turned In." The accident was due to a rail "turning in." The rail which was on outside one, was on the right hand side coaling down and must have been out of plumb about an eighth of an inch. The sharp flange of the electric train caught this and twisted it inward.

This twist threw the first car off the track, and into the water. The second and third cars were dragged with it, and while the third car was descending the rear portion struck the abutment, hung for a short time, then slid into the water.

But this brief stop saved several lives. Several men and a few women leaped out of the windows and the rear door into the water, caught hold of a post and were rescued.

Royal Artillery Band Lost. Among the passengers were 20 men of the Royal Artillery band on their way here from Philadelphia. One or two bodies of the band men were recovered early in the afternoon.

Charles Kessler, a merchant here, who was in the forward car, secured an axe and began to hack the door open to liberate the imprisoned passengers. The task was difficult but he managed to get some women out.

The man who attends the bridge, declares that the bridge was opened three minutes before the train came along. A yacht passed through. He says that the bridge was properly closed and the tracks inspected. He cannot explain why the rails twisted.

Motorman Scott stuck to his post and went down with the train. Brakenham Wood proved a hero. When the train left the rails he ran to the rear door and held it open for the passengers until the car slid off the trestle. He went into the water with it, then swam ashore. His action probably saved many lives.

When the car dropped Henry Roemer, crawling from a window, swam alongside the fast sinking cars, kicked out the window glass and thus gave several an opportunity to escape. One man was caught in the window and drowned before he could be extricated.

Another Heroic Escape. One instance of a heroic, almost miraculous escape from the first car is the case of David S. Enley, of Camden. Enley reached Atlantic City carrying in his lacerated arms ten-year-old Helen Gilbert, also of Camden. At the first intimation of danger Enley leaped to the platform taking the child with him. As the coach plunged he sprang into the water and succeeded in swimming ashore with the little one.

The man best able to tell what caused the accident is Daniel B. Stewart, chief bridge tender. Stewart, however, is in no condition to talk. Horror has temporarily bereft him of reason. He is 65 years old.

The train, made up of three heavy vestibule coaches of the newest type, electrically equipped, left Camden at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The coaches were comfortably filled, women and children being in the majority. No passengers in the third car was killed but every one was injured.

The first two coaches sank quickly in 20 feet of water.

Among the Dead Are:

WALTER SCOTT, Atlantic City, motorman.
FRAN DE SACESSENO, bandman of the Royal Artillery band.
J. P. DEMPSEY AND WIFE, Camden.

FRANK MONROE AND WIFE, Camden.
MRS. BRODISCH, identified by her niece.

SAMUEL Y. FIEL, Philadelphia.
MRS. SELENIA WOFFER, Camden, N. J.

JAMES EGAN, Atlantic City.
CHARLES ALBERTUS, Morris-town, Pa.

DAVID F. REED, of New York.

Promised.

Rabbi D. Lovitch, of Temple Israel, has been secured to address the pupils in the High school tomorrow morning. He is an eloquent, forceful speaker, and the pupils are looking forward to the address with much pleasure.

The work of the science class is progressing and members of the faculty think favorably of giving a demonstration as soon as the members of the class progress far enough with experiments. This is one new feature which has proven a success from the start.

Supt. C. M. Lieb today will investigate the sanitary conditions at the Jefferson street building, Eighth and Harrison streets, where it is reported bad. There are many ways to remedy the defect, and action will be taken at once.

CRIME RAMPANT IN CITY STREETS

Three Men Held Up And Robbed Saturday Night.

Dogs and Bicycles Stolen From Residences and Clothing Snatched by Thief.

BOY STABBED BY COMPANION

Highway robbers, fighters, house-breakers, bicycle thieves, package snatchers and horse thieves have been keeping the police busy for several days, and Sunday night the carnival of crime seemed to reach its climax, when three highway robbers were committed, one young man badly stabbed and several horses, wheels and dogs reported missing. Jim Hildreth and James W. Barksdale were held up and robbed. The last reported was John M. Hestands, a bootmaker at the Fowler-Wolf street iron and metal works.

Hildreth was arrested by a bogus detective and $7 was taken from him. Barksdale was held by two negroes with a pistol, searched and robbed of his cash. Hestands evidently aet the same two negroes who caught him going home to Third and Jackson streets Saturday night and robbed him of his gold watch at the point of a pistol.

Serious Stabbing. Willie Watson, on 122 Clements street, aged 18 years, engaged in a difficulty with a stranger in the Duley Allen resort on Kentucky avenue and was stabbed in the back. He was taken home and the stranger escaped. He is suspected of being a young man living on North Eighth street, but the police have taken no action.

John Cook, a young man of Benton, is alleged to have snatched a bundle of clothes from Fina Hawkins, of Gilbertsville, at the Illinois Central depot Saturday afternoon, caught the Benton train, and escaped. At Benton the sheriff got him and Hawkins went down to compromise the matter. The police did not want to bring a petit larceny prisoner back to Paducah.

Fine Dogs Stolen. Messrs. Fendall Burnett and James Nagel, sportsmen, reported the losses of their fine blood dogs. Both gentlemen reside on North Fifth street and it is thought that the same thieves got both dogs.

Frank Vlek reports the loss of his bicycle at Fourth street and Broadway Saturday night, and Prof. C. A. Norvell reports the loss of his son's wheel from the residence, 1719 Madison street.

Mrs. Lizzie Elrod, wife of G. W. (Bud) Elrod, of Mass., Ky., a few miles southwest of Paducah, died Sunday morning of paralysis and the funeral was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence. The burial was in the family cemetery. Her death was sudden, she being found in a semi-conscious condition at 3 o'clock Sunday morning. She was never awakened. Dr. G. A. Hamlet attended her.

The doctor was at the house to see Mrs. Elrod, who was ill. Mrs. Elrod sustained a shock shortly after midnight. The deceased was born in this county 36 years ago. She was first married to Charles Humphreys who died several years ago. She married her present husband about three years ago. She leaves a husband and eight children. The children are Mrs. Sam Miles, Paducah; Miss Nina Humphreys, George and Fina Humphreys, of Mass., and Will Humphreys, of Bandann and two small children.

The ultimatum becomes effective today.

CALLED BLUFF OF STATE COMMITTEE

Primary Fund Arrives In Paducah. So It Is Said.

Beckham Men Charge That McCreary Faction Is Manipulating the Money.

SIX HUNDRED DOLLARS HERE

It was a cool call the local Democratic committee made on the state committee last week and the latter organization came across with $600 for the state primary in McCracken county.

What is claimed by Beckham followers to be a scheme on the part of the McCracken men in the state committee to block the primary in counties known to be for Beckham, was disclosed by the local men, and probably other counties in the state will follow suit.

McCracken seems to be conceded to the governor and estimates of the expense of the primary were sent to the state committee a long while ago. It was figured at $600. It is stated that a small portion of this sum was sent here, but repeated demands for more were ignored by Chairman Mott Ayres. At least, this is the claim made by the Beckham men.

Inquiries disclosed the same state of affairs in other Beckham counties. Locally there is not enough light on hand to bring out a big fund, and what there is they need in the city contests. The committee declined to make up the deficiency in the primary fund by home contributions and so informed the state committee.

There was "nothing doing" but a representative was sent to Louisville the latter part of the week, and as the committee was preparing to explode a lovely scandal in the manipulation of the state Democratic committee, the check for the $600 arrived.

CORRECT

ARE BOOKS OF MR. WALLACE IN WISDOM ESTATE.

Executors Prove Proper Administration and Secure Release From Trust.

The estate of B. W. Wisdom was Saturday afternoon in county court transferred to the Lexington Bank & Trust company, W. E. Cave and George C. Wallace, executors, surrendering the estate. It is one of the largest in this end of the state and a fee of $8,500 was allowed the executors for services. Six thousand dollars were divided between them and the remainder paid to Mr. Wallace for special services rendered. The executors filed a suit in circuit court some time ago asking for a settlement of the estate by the courts. This was dismissed before the order was made transferring the estate to the Lexington Bank & Trust company as executor. A total of $236,000 was distributed by the executors. The heirs of the deceased are Mrs. George C. Wallace, Mrs. W. E. Cave, deceased, and Mrs. Charles J. Bronston, of Lexington, and Henry Wisdom, of Texas son of Norton Wisdom, deceased.

Two expert accountants have been working on the books of Mr. Wallace and Saturday afternoon they reported to the county judge that every item is correct. After this Mr. Wallace and Dr. Cave succeeded in bringing about what they have been seeking for a year, release from the trust.

Snook, of Jackson, Miss.

SPARROWS CAUSE OF ALARM OF FIRE

Stop Up Chimney With Straw
And Waste Material.

Chief Wood Is Searching for Some Stolen Property of the Fire Department.

DRIVER'S UNFINISHED TOILET

With one side of his face shaved clean and the other smeared with a thick coat of tallow, Driver John McFadden of the No. 1 chemical truck, drove his team at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning out Broadway to 1918, the residence of W. M. Wheels.

McFadden was shaving when the alarm came in. He dropped razor, ran to the pole, and reached the ground floor. His horses were in harness, and clumblag on the seat started. He forgot all about his half-shaved face, and on his return was reminded of his unfinished toilet by the laughter of boys who followed the truck.

The alarm was occasioned by a quantity of smoke in the Wheels residence. Sparrows filled the chimney full of straw and hay and instead of the smoke going through the chimney, came out between the roof and ceiling.

Another Alarm. At 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning the companies Nos. 1 and 3 were called to the residence of W. J. Englebert, Sixteenth and Moore streets. A steam radiator setting too near the wainscoting had ignited it. Little damage was done.

Chief After Thieves. Fire Chief Wood is doing a little detective work and expects to prosecute persons holding fire department property. He lost several picks, axes, forks and other implements used in fire fighting at the Rowland-down and Vance mill fires last week. He has an idea where he can find several axes and unless they are returned, he will institute prosecution.

Old Ballplayer Returns.

Ed Holland, who formerly lived here and played with the fastest amateur baseball teams in the city, has returned to reside after several years' residence in Oklahoma, Kansas and Indian Territory. Holland lost his left leg just below the knee while railroaded years ago but has a cork leg to replace it, and plays ball every season. He played first base with the Kansas City Western association team in several series.

HORSES TUMBLE

DOWN EMBANKMENT AT CALDWELL
WELL STREET FILL.

Wagon Falls Them Over and the Team Rolls Over and Over to the Bottom.

A team of fine gray draft horses owned by Mike Isenan and driven by Henry Bell, colored, went over the east side of the new Caldwell street fill near the Illinois Central depot, and one horse was crippled in the hind leg. The driver backed the automatic dump wagon too near the edge of the fill, and dumped the load. The horses were unable to go over it and the wagon gradually pulled them back until they rolled down the hill. The wagon did not fall on them fortunately, but one horse fell and jammed its leg against a board. The soft dirt saved the animals from probable fatal injuries.

POLAR EXPLORER HEARD FROM.

Unexpected Progress Being Made by Mikkelsen-Leflingwell Expedition.

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 29.—Unexpectedly good progress is being made by the Mikkelsen-Leflingwell polar expedition, which left here on May 20 in the schooner Duchess of Bedford to locate a new continent believed to exist in the mysterious Beaufort Sea, westward of Banks Island. Letters from the explorers dated July 25 have been received here. They state that Point Hope, originally intended as this winter's base, had been reached two months ahead of the program. From Point Hope to Mitato Inlet, Prince Albert Land, is less than a thousand miles of open water, which the schooner could cover in a fortnight, and she had two months of favorable weather in which to do it. The crucial event of the expedition is due in February, when the party will make westward across the ice packs for the unknown land. If this land be found a new route to the pole will have been attained.

Engine Rolled Down Bank. Waynesburg, O., Oct. 29.—An engine and freight train on the Cleveland & Pittsburgh road, jumped the track this morning and rolled over an embankment. Thirteen cars were wrecked. Engineer Hamilton was crushed to death under the engine. A brakeman was pinned in the cab and badly scalded.

Hundreds of Bodies Recovered. Tokio, Oct. 29.—The disaster of the pearl and bonito fishing fleet off the south of Kishu in the recent storm proves even greater than was feared at first. Most of the 35 vessels in the fleet were lost and 500 bodies have already been recovered.

CAPTAIN GORDON

WELL KNOWN RIVER MAN DIES
OF PNEUMONIA.

Owner of Charles Turner and Prominent Lodge Man, Will Be Buried in Pittsburg.

Capt. Ezekiel Gordon, of Fifth and Clark streets, died Sunday afternoon from typhoid pneumonia. Capt. Gordon was 45 years old and leaves only his wife in this city. He came to the city from Pittsburg two years ago with his boat, the Charles Turner, and has been in the business since. Last winter he married his present wife in Pittsburg. Capt. Gordon is not an old river man, having been in the business only for the last two years. His early manhood and the larger part of his life were spent as an iron worker in the rolling mills of Pittsburg, he being an expert workman. His sickness began several weeks ago but he was out last week. His boat, the Charles Turner, has been recently repaired and he had made preparations to go more heavily into the business. At present the Charles Turner is in the Cumberland river in charge of Captain Button Carroll.

Captain Gordon was a member of the Paducah circle of Eagles and the following pallbearers will accompany the body to the depot: L. P. Head, Fred Nagel, Don Marton, Louis Levy, Wm. Robison Jr., and D. C. Glass. It is probable that one Eagle, Hon. L. P. Head, will be appointed to accompany the body to Pittsburg. The body will be met at Pittsburg by a committee of Eagles.

Tonight at 8 o'clock funeral services will be held by the Eagle lodge at the residence.

Capt. Gordon was a member of the Moanagahela Lodge No. 269, F. and A. M. His brother will arrive from Pittsburg this afternoon at 6:15. The services will be conducted by Rev. W. E. Cave at the residence at Fifth and Clark streets.

To Avert a Lynching.

Ripley, Tenn., Oct. 29.—The sheriff and a posse left here for Hale's Point to avert the lynching of George Estes, a negro, who, it is charged, killed Deputy Sheriff Sasley and fatally wounded John Bowers during a raid on a crap game Sunday night.

WEATHER—Fair tonight and Tuesday. Warmer tonight, colder by Tuesday night. The highest temperature yesterday was 62 and the lowest today was 53.

IF STREET WORK CITY SHOULD PAY

Opinion of Alderman Miller on Storm Sewers.

City Will Not Undertake Ex Parte
Proceedings Because Cost Is Nominal.

WILL HOLD ON TO TAX MONEY.

"If the storm water sewers are considered as street improvements, then the city should bear half the expense of constructing them," said Alderman W. T. Miller this morning. He will insist on this view of the matter at the meeting of the board of aldermen one week from Thursday night, when the finance committee reports on the new storm water sewers.

The pipes are laid under recently improved streets and their construction was carried on in connection with the regular street work. They are comparatively cheap and are merely designed to carry off accumulations of water. The level surface of Paducah makes surface drainage impracticable and these drains are built as substitutes.

They are not looked upon as sewers in the sense sanitary sewers are, and are not nearly so expensive. The committee also decided not to bring ex parte proceedings to determine whether the city or property owners should bear the expense. The only opposition to the payment comes from those who have been misled by false reports of the cost and confusion with the larger sewer project in district No. 2. The cost is nominal and not worth fighting over.

Will Retain the Money. The finance committee has decided not to acquiesce in the demand of the Ayer-Lord Tie company for a refund of the $600 paid on its property during the pendency of the suit brought by the state revenue agent. The company claims to have paid it under protest, and states that it pays taxes elsewhere.

INDIAN TRIBES TO BE STUDIED

Expedition Soon to Start for South America.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 29.—The Peabody museum of Harvard university has nearly completed its plans for an important ethnological expedition to South America, and the departure will take place in about two weeks. The trip is to occupy about three years and its object is to collect all possible information about the little known Indian tribes on the eastern side of the Andes Mountains. The funds have been provided by a recent Harvard graduate. The members of the party will be Dr. W. C. Farnabee, instructor in anthropology, who will be the leader and chief scientist of the expedition, and two assistants Louis J. de Milhau, 1906, and J. W. Hastings, 1905. Headquarters for the work will be at Arequipa, Peru, from which trips will be made among the neighboring Indian tribes.

HELD UP BY TWO MEN.

James W. Barksdale Relieved of His Valmables.

James W. Barksdale, of the Barksdale Brothers Furniture company, Third street and Kentucky avenue, was held up at Tenth and Jefferson streets Saturday evening shortly after dusk. Two negroes asked Barksdale to change a dollar for him and when he counted his change and looked up, found himself staring into the muzzle of a pistol. He was backed against the fence and his clothes searched. Between $6 and $7 were secured.

Otega Tribe Pays Honor To Memory of Its Dead.

Beautiful Eulogy Pronounced by Attorney J. C. Ross at Broadway Church.

PROGRAM OF THE OCCASION

One of the most beautiful and impressive memorial services ever held in Paducah was that of Otega Tribe, No. 60, of Red Men, at the Broadway Methodist church Sunday afternoon. The service began at 11 o'clock conducted by Mr. L. L. Hebert.

The order of service was carried out perfectly and the prelude by Mr. S. H. Winstead at the organ was a fitting beginning. The ritual was next and the Rev. T. J. Newell's invocation was followed by a hymn.

Attorney J. C. Ross delivered the eulogy. He is a forceful speaker. He paid a beautiful tribute to the dead of the tribe. They are: Jake Polz, Elmer Harris, James F. Crow, Wade F. Short and William Winston.

Mr. Robert Scott sang "O, Dry Those Tears," with effect.

A quartet sang "Like As A Father I'll Bless His Children."

Attorney Alben Barkley in a short address discussed the endeavors and purposes of the organization. He defended the Red Men whose land had been taken from him, and stated the order was to perpetuate the virtues of a race that was rapidly becoming extinct.

Miss Emma Knauss of Evansville, sang a solo, "Angel Serenade," and Mrs. Will Clark played a violin obbligato. It was one of the features of the program.

Following the ritual the choir, tribe and congregation joined in a hymn and the Rev. Calvin Thompson's benediction closed the service.

The church was crowded with friends of the honored dead and of the tribe.

A Napoleon Story.

The London Tribune relates what it says is a fine anecdote illustrating the lighter side of Napoleon's character. It comes from an old lady who knew the daughters of Sir Hudson Lowe. The Misses Lowe were young girls at the time of Napoleon's imprisonment at St. Helena, and were sometimes admitted to his presence when he would chat pleasantly with them. On one or two occasions, when in a specially good humor, he drew his sword, and gallantly presenting it to one of the girls, said: "Now, young lady, is your chance; you have to kill the Corsican ogre!" He would then throw himself into postures and defend himself with his walking stick. Whether from nervousness or sheer maladresse, no hit was ever made, and the great man would then smile, and say, condescendingly, "Well, ladies, you can now boast that you have fended with the great Napoleon."

Not a National Disease.

The common statement that dyspepsia is the national disease has nothing to sustain it. In the average collection of people about a table men and women will be observed to be eating what pleases them. They do this without sign of pain or even discomfort. Here and there is a dyspeptic, devoted much to the pampering of a stomach made poor not through indulgence in ordinary wholesome foods but from eating too much or too little or at irregular intervals. He is welcome to all the pampering that may be necessary, but it is fair that he dismiss the notion that the collective stomachs of a generation are his especial care.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Substitute.

Little Helen, 4 years old, was in dreadful predicament. The nurse, carrying the cherished two-weeks-old baby up and down before the house, had paused to show the new infant to the bishop, who had asked to look at it. And then the tall, grave bishop, of whom Helen stood greatly in awe, had unexpectedly asked the little girl to give him the baby.

How in the world to refuse a request made by such an awe-inspiring person as the bishop the child did not know. But presently she wrinkled her small countenance shrewdly moved closer to the petitioner, and said indignantly "I'll let you have the next."—Harper's Weekly.

This remarkable woman, whose maiden name was Estes, was born in Lynn, Mass., February 6th, 1819, coming from a good old Quaker family. For some years she taught school, and became known as a woman of an alert and investigating mind, an earnest seeker after knowledge, and above all, possessed of a wonderfully sympathetic nature.

In 1843 she married Isaac Pinkham, a builder and real estate operator, and their early married life was marked by prosperity and happiness. They had four children, three sons and a daughter.

In those good old fashioned days it was common for mothers to make their own home medicines from roots and herbs, nature's own remedies—calling in a physician only in specially urgent cases. By tradition and experience many of them gained a wonderful knowledge of the curative properties of the various roots and herbs.

Mrs. Pinkham took a great interest in the study of roots and herbs, their characteristics and power over disease. She maintained that just as nature so beautifully provides in the harvest fields and orchards vegetable foods of all kinds; so, if we take the pains to find them, in the roots and herbs of the field there are remedies expressly designed to cure the various ills and weaknesses of the body, and it was her pleasure to search these out, and prepare simple and effective medicines for her own family and friends.

Chief of these was a rare combination of the choicest medicinal roots and herbs found best adapted for the cure of the ills and weaknesses peculiar to the female sex, and Lydia E. Pinkham's friends and neighbors learned that her compound relieved and cured and it became quite popular among them.

All this so far was done freely, without money and without price, as a labor of love.

But in 1873 the financial crisis struck Lynn. Its length and severity were too much for the large real estate interests of the Pinkham family, as this class of business suffered most from the fearful depression, so when the Centennial year dawned it found their property swept away. Some other source of income had to be found.

At this point Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was made known to the world.

The three sons and the daughter, with their mother, combined forces to restore the family fortune. They argued that the medicine which was so good for their woman friends and neighbors was equally good for the women of the whole world.

The Pinkhams had no money and little credit. Their first laboratory was the kitchen, where roots and herbs were steeped on the stove, gradually filling a gross of bottles. Then came the question of selling it, for always before they had given it away freely. They hired a job printer to run off some pamphlets setting forth the merits of the medicine, now called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and these were distributed by the Pinkhams sons in Boston, New York, and Brooklyn.

The wonderful curative properties of the medicine were, to a great extent, self-advertising, for whoever used it recommended it to others, and the demand gradually increased.

In 1877, by combined efforts the family had saved enough money to commence newspaper advertising and from that time the growth and success of the enterprise were assured, until today Lydia E. Pinkham and her Vegetable Compound have become household words everywhere, and many tons of roots and herbs are used annually in its manufacture.

Lydia E. Pinkham herself did not live to see the great success of this work. She passed to her reward years ago, but not till she had provided means for continuing her work as effectively as she could have done it herself.

During her long and eventful experience she was ever faithful in her work and she was always careful to preserve a record of every case that came to her attention. The case of every sick woman who applied to her for advice—and there were thousands—received careful study, and the details, including symptoms, treatment and results were recorded for future reference, and today these records, together with hundreds of thousands made since, are available to sick women the world over, and represent a vast collaboration of information regarding the treatment of women's ills, which for authenticity and accuracy can hardly be equaled in any library in the world.

With Lydia E. Pinkham worked her daughter-in-law, the present Mrs. Pinkham. She was carefully instructed in all her hard-won knowledge, and for years she assisted her in her vast correspondence.

To her hands naturally fell the direction of the work when its originator passed away. For nearly twenty-five years she has continued it, and nothing in the work shows when the first Lydia E. Pinkham dropped her pen and the present Mrs. Pinkham, now the mother of a large family, took it up.

With women assistants, some as capable as herself, the present Mrs. Pinkham continues this great work, and probably from the office of no other person have so many women been advised how to regain health. Sick women, this advice is "Yours for Health" freely given if you only write to ask for it.

Such is the history of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; made from simple roots and herbs; the one great medicine for women's ailments, and the fitting monument to the noble woman whose name it bears.

HUGHES WILL WIN
NEW YORK CONTEST

One Newspaper Asserts That Situation Is Clarified.

Olds Still Best On Republican Candidate and His Position Is Safe.

EFFORT TO STAMPEDE FAILS.

Says the Chicago Record-Herald's New York correspondent:

A point has been reached in New York's spectacular political contest where it is possible to say that one of the rival candidates for governor has a distinct advantage over the other. Within the last three days the situation has clarified to a marked extent and it now shows Charles E. Hughes several lengths ahead in the race, with William B. Hearst plunging along behind, using whip and spur to overtake his adversary, and laboring against heavy odds.

With only one whole week remaining before the election, the campaign managers have turned their principal attention from the issues to the practical work of getting out the vote. At this time the people generally have made up their minds as to whom they favor for governor. The state outside the city of Greater New York has been canvassed, and the leaders know approximately what is to be expected north of the Harlem river. If all the voters go to the polls. There still is a combination of mystery and doubt regarding the vote of New York and Kings county, but both the mystery and the doubt are inimical to the political fortunes of Mr. Hearst.

A little more than three weeks ago the word "go" was given and Mr. Hughes, the Republican candidate, entered the race by no means a favorite with the politicians, despite the fact that the Wall street betting odds were in his favor. Hearst took the lead in a spirit of enthusiasm, and at various intervals since he has maintained his prestige for a few days at a time. Hughes, however, has been the steady, unflinching fighter in the contest, constantly pushing his advantage, until now he has put a good sized gap between himself and his opponent and looms up as a sure winner unless some unforeseen accident befalls before he reaches the home stretch.

His Lingerie.

(New York Press.)
A bright young fellow from the west, rich to the verge of villainy, returned from a two years' course of study, in Heidelberg and Paris the other day, and was put up at a swell New York club. His departure from our city was hastened by a telegram from Chicago, and he had to leave some of his wash behind. Yesterday a group of the club loungers were enjoying the contents of a brief note sent to the young man's sponsor, it being too good to keep, the host passed the missive along the line:

"My Dear Old Man—When the laundryman returns will you please be good enough to take personal charge of my lingerie? Some of it is real lace. The pink suit (undershirt and drawers) is genuine silk Honiton, costing me the ridiculous sum of $99. The Gobiell blue suit is real Cluny. You will recognize it by the figures of the amplexus of the Pliocene Period. Cost me $125. I was stupid to let an ordinary washman or washwoman have these fabrics to ruin. Then there are, among other things, seven pairs of stockings made of pure Millecent, worth $17 a pair. Naturally, I shouldn't care to lose these things. Have the janitor express all the lingerie to me at ——. Would do the same for you on a pinch."

Unfortunately Put.

"I had the good luck to be invited to dine with the king at Marlborough house when I was in London in June," said a western millionaire.

"As I didn't know how to dress the part of a royal guest I wrote to Lord Knollys, the king's secretary, and asked help."

"Lord Knollys said in his reply: 'As no ladies are to be present, trousers may be worn.'"

"When I first read that sentence I said to myself:

"What kind of Neronic revels go on at Marlborough house, anyway?"

"Afterwards, though, I learned that Lord Knollys only meant that at mixed dinners knee breeches were worn at Marlborough house, at stag ones the ordinary evening suit sufficed."

MR. DOOLEY'S TALK.

F. P. Dunne never wrote a better "Dooley" article than the one he publishes in the October number of The American Magazine—the periodical that he and John S. Phillips and Ida M. Tarbell and William Allen White and Lincoln Steffens and Ray Stannard Baker have bought, and taken hold of with such vigor.

This new "Dooley" article is on "The Power of the Press." It is the splendid sane brain of the great American philosopher at its best. How Peter Dunne does grow in wisdom and knowledge! How gentle his humor, how fair his thrusts!

After showing what "the press can do for him it loves" and "what it can hand to him it don't love," after amusing reference to his colleagues, Mr. Steffens and Mr. Baker and Miss Tarbell, and to Winston Churchill and Roosevelt and others, "Mr. Dooley" says:

"No, sir, as Hogan says, I care not who makes the laws or the money in a country so long as I run the press. Father Kelly was talkin' about it the other day. There ain't anything like it an' there niver was," says he. "All the priests in this diocese together preach to about a hundred thousand people wanst a week an', he says 'all the papers preach to three million wanst a day, aye twenty times a day,' he says. 'We give ye hell on Sundays an' they give ye hell all the time,' he says. 'Tis a poudherful thing,' he says. 'I see a har' in printer's ink goin' into a newspaper office an' it looks common enough. A har' in printer's ink, a har' in linseed oil an' lampblack, with a smell to it that's half ink an' half perfume. But I tell ye if all the dynamite, dynamite, cordite an' gun cotton in the wurld wuz hid behind thin hoops there wudn't be as much disturbance in that har' as there is in the messy stuff that looks like so much tar,' he says. 'Printer's ink! A drop of it on wan little wurld in type,' he says, 'will blacken the fairest name in Christendom or,' he says, 'make a star to shine on the lowliest brow,' he says. 'It will find its way into millions of homes an' hearts an' memories. It will go through iron doors an' stone walls an' will carry some message that may turn the current of ivy life it meets, from the emperor to the baby in the cradle in Hannigan's flat,' he says. 'It may undo a thousand prayers or start a million. It can't be escaped. It could drag me out iv me parish house to-morrow an' make me as well-known in Pekin as I am in Halstead street, an' no: as favorably. Today the pope may give me no more thought than he gives Kelly the Bowlin' Mill Man. Tomorrow he may be readin' about how great or bad I am in the Poppy's Romano. It's good Death beat a mile in levelin' ranks,' he says.

"Yes sir," says he, "the hand that rocks the fountain pens is the hand that rules the wurld. The press is fr the whole niverse what Mulligan was fr his bent. He was the best policeman an' the worst I ever knew. He was a terror to evil doers when he was sober an' a terror to ivybody when he was drunk. Martin, I drink to the la-a-a-a all over the wurld who use the printer's ink. May the not put too much in the red stuff in it an' may it niver go to their heads."—American Magazine

WHY LIVES ARE SHORTER.

In part I of the third volume of the United States census for 1900 will be found a tabulated statement which shows in a very striking way the rise in the death rate during the decade from 1890 to 1900 for all ages from 60 up. The figures given are now six years old, and so I have brought them up to date, with the help of fresh information from Washington—a matter of no little importance, inasmuch as the increase has been marked ever since 1900. Thus correct for accuracy, the reckoning shows that since 1890 there has been this increase in the death rate for the entire United States:

For people of ages from 60 to 64, 7 per cent.
For people of ages from 65 to 69, 6 1/2 per cent.
For people of ages from 70 to 74, 16 1/2 per cent.
For people of ages from 75 to 79, 7 per cent.
For people of ages from 80 to 84, 15 per cent.
For people of ages from 85 to 89, 12 per cent.
For people of ages from 90 to 94, 20 1/2 per cent.
For people of ages from 95 and up, 20 1/2 per cent.

These figures tell the story more clearly than the most eloquent discourse on the subject. They show that, notwithstanding improved medical knowledge and the benefits of modern sanitation, we are dying earlier than our grandparents did. The reason why offers a topic for a considerable discussion and is not to be summed up in a word, but one may discover it without much difficulty in the more complex and luxurious life that we lead. The lives of our forebears were comparatively simple, and their constitutions, unweakened by the luxury and intense nervous strain of an existence like that of today, were stronger than ours and better able to withstand the approaches of disease.—John V. Shoemaker in the Reader.

NUMBERING CARS OF PENNSYLVANIA

Confusion Now Exists All Over The Great System.

Will Require Year to Complete the Gigantic Task Now Under-taken.

WHERE TROUBLE COMES IN

To aid in the moving and taking care of its cars, which now number a quarter of a million, the Pennsylvania railroad is having them all numbered. It is a gigantic task, one that will require a full year's labor, but when the work is done there will be none of the confusion which has frequently brought grief to the Pennsylvania's car record office and to the car accountants of other roads.

Troubles arose from the fact that every one of the individual companies which go to make up the Pennsylvania system had its own car numbers. In addition to that the similarity of the legends, "Pennsylvania" and "Pennsylvania Company," often caused one name to be reported when the other should have been. In the system there might be eight or ten cars with the same number, and if the small initials of individual ownership were left out of a report there was no way of telling what car was really meant.

To the passenger cars belonging to the lines east of Pittsburgh are given the numbers 1 to 1,700 and to those belonging to the lines west of Pittsburgh the numbers 7,001 to 10,000. The freight cars are numbered from 10,001 to 504,000 on the eastern lines and from 500,001 to 999,999 on the western lines.

To make the task as easy as possible it was arranged that the largest ownership, namely, the Pennsylvania railroad proper, should carry the lower numbers. This would fall into the proper class without having to be remembered.

The cars are to be repainted, too, but that is, of necessity, much slower work than the renumbering. There are comparatively few places where it can be done, while new numbers can be put on at pretty nearly any station where there is a small paint shop. When the repainting is done every car on the eastern lines will have the word "Pennsylvania" on the side, above the number, and the letters "P. R. R." on the end. On the western lines "Pennsylvania Lines" will be the legend for the side of a car and "P. L." for the end.

TEARING UP THE STREETS.

The board of public works gave permission to "The Home Telephone company to tear up the brick street at the intersection of Fifth and Jefferson streets," to the "Paducah Gas company to tear up the brick street in front of the Elks' home," and "to the Paducah Traction company to tear up and open the blue tile street in front of the postoffice where its double track now ends."

After two whole days spent in chewing the rubber off the end of a lead pencil, that is the best argument offered in answer to The Sun's statement, that no reasonable advocate of municipal ownership desires to build a new water plant and tear up the streets of the city to lay pipes where pipes already lie. Characteristically enough, the reply does not say anything about the fact, that the companies which are granted the permits execute bonds to replace the streets in as good condition as before they were torn up. But, regardless of that important oversight, consider the utter stupidity of the comparison between unnecessarily tearing up all the streets of Paducah and public service corporations tearing up a longitudinal section of a street a block long at most.

In order for the city to build its own water plant it would be necessary to dig a trench through the center of every street in the city from the northern extremity of Rowlandtown to the southern limits of Mechanicsburg; from the Ohio river to the western borders. Not only would these trenches be dug for mains but lateral trenches from the mains into nearly every dooryard in Paducah would have to be dug. It is conservative to say that $500,000 would not cover the damage done to the streets alone, not to mention the cost of labor in digging the trenches and rebuilding the streets, the cost of pipe and the price of the water plant itself. Streets now graveled and serviceable would be a succession of lateral ridges about 30 feet apart with a longitudinal ridge down the middle, and nothing but paving could ever repair them.

Official Inspection.

The annual inspection by division officials of the Illinois Central road is being made on the Louisville division today, the train leaving Paducah at 10 o'clock this morning for Louisville. The inspection train was made up of eight coaches carrying one special car for securing levels, depressions and all defects of the roadbed. Every official on the division board.

ter plant and laying city pipes would cost a half million dollars more than purchasing the Paducah Water company's plant at its own price. The contract to be voted on provides for purchase by the city at any time the city desires. The contract is published in The Sun. Read its terms. They speak for themselves, and they are published under authority of the city.

Alderman Miller did carry to Frankfort a bill creating a board of park commissioners for cities of the second class, but Alderman Miller did not carry to Frankfort a bill "requiring second class cities to spend thousands of dollars for parks;" and the person that made the latter statement knew it at the time, and even in correcting his first statement carefully veiled the truth. Alderman Miller's bill created a board of park commissioners. The bill was drawn at the instance of Lexington officials, as Mayor Yelver will state. Alderman Miller had it prepared as a protection to Paducah which must necessarily be affected by it, and his measure provided that the general council might at its option appropriate so much money each year for park purposes as its members should see fit. The law that was enacted by the Democratic legislature fixed an arbitrary appropriation of 5 cents on the $100 annually for park purposes, and that is the measure, "requiring" second class cities to spend thousands of dollars," a very different thing from what Alderman Miller carried to Frankfort. Now listen to the explanation made by the author of the falsehood: "One feature of the bill being changed by the legislative committee after he left Frankfort." Since that changed feature in the bill, as enacted, relieves the charge against Alderman Miller of any resemblance to the truth, in common decency it deserves more elaboration. Alderman Miller has offered the provisions of his bill to be published in parallel columns with the provisions of the law, as enacted; but we doubt if this will be done, as it is not compatible with the spirit in which this bit of mendacity was conceived. Sly perversion of facts is more despicable than falsehood of the whole cloth, because less easily exposed.

"Give us the police judge and we care not who dominates the police department," is the motto of the powers of evil. Conscientious administration of the office of police magistrate will save the people thousands of dollars annually in the cost of criminal prosecutions in that court and the criminal court will protect the lives and property of citizens; will insure prompt obedience to the law, and will reduce the necessity of close police surveillance fifty per cent. E. W. Bagby is a conscientious, conservative man with no foibles. He has no disposition to persecute anyone; just a natural leaning toward justice and fair play.

Remember, in voting for the park construction bonds you are voting for a park in your own ward, to be constructed in two years instead of ten or twenty years, when property advances; and you are voting for something for your enjoyment and that of your children without increasing the tax rate one cent, or later, for a park with any possible future bond issue the city may desire. Not only will you not increase the tax rate by voting the bonds, but your negative vote will not increase the possibility of a reduction in the rate, since the legislature has seen fit to fix the levy for park purposes. Let's be for Paducah.

We cannot but suspect that Governor Beckham, with design, badgered "Mahoe Henry" Waterson into openly attacking him. Observe what a big crowd flocked to his meeting at Owensboro the next day to hear what the governor would say in reply, and note the columns of pure reading matter devoted to his speech in all the state papers. Even the anti-administration papers were compelled to publish Beckham's arguments in order to gratify their readers' desire to keep up with the fight. "Pears like 'Mahoe Henry'" advertised the governor pretty well.

We are surprised to learn through the columns of a local paper that some of the city and county Democratic officials are going to support the Democratic municipal ticket, at least, as far as public expression is concerned. The candidates themselves should now be interviewed. Mayhap, some of them are going to vote the ticket.

You elected the present general council as a protest to ring rule. Not a breath of scandal, nothing but praise for honesty and business men has been heard concerning its work. At the election next week express your approval or disapproval of its course.

This is the open season for un-sportsmanlike sportsmen, and Capt. T. J. Moore is a mighty hunter of moa. We opine he will bag a few poachers ere the season is far advanced.

Official Inspection.

The annual inspection by division officials of the Illinois Central road is being made on the Louisville division today, the train leaving Paducah at 10 o'clock this morning for Louisville. The inspection train was made up of eight coaches carrying one special car for securing levels, depressions and all defects of the roadbed. Every official on the division board.

STATE ELECTIONS
HELD ON TUESDAY

Twenty-Three Governors Will Be Chosen.

How Many Congressional Seats and Senatorial Toga Are at Stake.

PARTIES THAT HAVE TICKETS

New York, Oct. 29.—A week from Tuesday there will be an election in 12 states and three territories, Oregon, Maine and Vermont have already elected state officers and members of the Sixtieth congress. In 23 of the states a governor and other state officers (in 20 of them also a legislature); in ten minor state officers of justices of the supreme court; in two, congressmen and a legislature; and in seven congressmen only, are to be elected. Oklahoma is to vote a state constitution, and Arizona and New Mexico on joint statehood.

The terms of 30 United States senators—15 Democrats and 15 Republicans—expire March 3, 1907. Virginia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Kentucky and Arkansas have already selected Democrats and Georgia has a legislature which will elect another, while Maine and Oregon have legislatures which insure the return of Republicans. Of the 22 states in which is to be chosen November 6, a legislature that will elect United States senators, 14 are now represented in the senate by Republicans and eight by Democrats.

A national house of representatives is to be elected—the Sixtieth congress with 386 members. The present house is composed of 250 Republicans and 136 Democrats. Maine has

The Rigors of Cold Weather.

Probably at no time of the year does the physical condition of the body demand more attention than just at this season, the beginning of cold weather.

Let the system be run down, or the blood impoverished to any extent and the cold weather goes hard with you. Naturally the thing to do is to get the circulation in good order, and the whole system toned up to stand the rigors of winter.

Some physicians prescribe the daily cold bath, others seek recourse in blood tonics and other stimulants, but, probably the most rational treatment of all is the Osteopathic, as Osteopathy more quickly, and more effectively rights the blood flow and restores normal conditions than any other known treatment.

Osteopathy is only a natural treatment, a method of bloodless surgical manipulations to remove any obstructions interfering with the proper transference of nerve force, or natural blood flow, or the other fluids, to the organ or part involved. I should like to have you call and let me tell of some Paducah people whom you know well that Osteopathy has done much for, and also to tell you what it will do in your particular case.

Fusion in One State.

There is fusion in only one state—Nebraska—where the Democrats and Populists agreed upon a division of the state nominations.

As usual there is one state ticket—the Democratic—in South Carolina, Pennsylvania leads this year with the greatest number of state tickets—12. Parties are numerous, those having tickets in the field being, Independence League, Citizens', Commonwealth, City, Referendum, Jeffersonian, American, Anti-Administration Republican, Reorganized Republican, and Lincoln Republican. Six of them, however, are confined to Pennsylvania.

The Socialists have tickets in 25 states, the Prohibitionists in 23; Socialist Labor in seven, Populists or Peoples' in four and the Independence League in three, while "Public Ownership" has a ticket in one state.

BELIEVES PEARY AT POLE.

Has Instinctive Feeling That Explorer Has Attained His Goal.

Portland, Me., Oct. 29.—Mrs. Robert E. Peary, wife of the Arctic explorer, who is about to return to her home in Washington, is certain her husband has found the north pole, and will soon be on his way home to tell about it. "I do not expect to hear from him," she said until the last of November, and will not be disappointed if I do not hear from him then. When the expedition started, it was hoped they might return sooner. If my husband has not yet reached the pole, I suppose he is in winter quarters at Cape Hecla, but I have an instinctive feeling that he has achieved the ambition of his life. To my mind there is only one possibility that he will not return alive. The dogs on which he depends to carry him across the frozen country, should they be attacked by the dread dog disease, might die and leave him with no means of transportation."

Big Hosiery Display.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Hosiery displays created so much interest at the Masonic Temple corner today that a squad of policemen was required to keep the crowds in motion. The wind blows at that corner even on still days. Today it blew a hurricane. Throngs gathered to see women cross the street. The situation grew very embarrassing. Assistant Chief of Police Schuetler chanced to pass that way and was shocked. Soon afterward Sergeant Maloney and ten bluecoats arrived on the scene. Even they had some trouble in scattering the spectators, and several men had to be clubbed before they would recognize the right of the police to protect women shoppers' neither extremes from their gaze.

REASONS

REASONS WHY DEMOCRATS OF MCCRACKEN COUNTY SHOULD VOTE FOR J. C. W. BECKHAM
FOR U. S. SEN-ATOR.

He is a young man of intelligence and industry—life does things. He assumed the office of governor under trade circumstances, and brought peace and good government out of anarchy and riot.

His administration has been clean, honest and able, and the people have been prosperous and happy.

He has paid off the state debt of a million dollars by the collection of a war claim that every governor for 50 years had tried in vain to get.

He stands, and has always stood, for good morals and the enforcement of the law.

He has brought the state out of the Republican ranks, and has landed it in the safely Democratic column.

He has recognized the old Confederate soldiers by securing the passage of a liberal appropriation for a Confederate Home. Several McCracken county veterans are enjoying its benefits.

He has recognized the rights of labor by the approval of the child labor law, and other measures of interest to the working men.

He has recognized the rights of the farmer by approving a liberal appropriation for the bureau of agriculture and the state fair.

He has recognized the rights of dependent children by urging and securing the passage of a liberal appropriation for the Children's Home society.

He has used the pardon power sparingly, but mercifully.

He urged and secured the passage of an election law that all citizens recognized as fair and honest.

He has urged and help enact into laws the measures fought for so valiantly by the martyred Goebel—the railroad rate bill and uniform textbook bill for schools.

He has recognized the fact that Paducah and McCracken county are on the map by visiting us at frequent intervals, and by appointing several of our county men to important places.

He is a man you won't be ashamed to point out as your senator, when you go to Washington.

He has always taken a decided stand on all public questions, and has always supported the Democratic ticket.

THE CHURCHES

The revival in progress at the Trimble street Methodist church is meeting with increased interest and will be continued during the week. The Rev. O. L. Murtin, of Dyersburg, Tenn., who is assisting the pastor, The Rev. W. W. Armstrong, is a strong preacher and is heard by large congregations. Mr. Martin preached three times yesterday, in the morning and evening, and held services at 2:30 in the afternoon.

The Rev. C. M. Thompson's special evening services have been attended with marked interest and the congregations have filled the church auditorium. Last night's theme was "Can the Ticket Be Lost?" and was a sequel to that of the previous Sunday evening. It was an eloquent and able sermon.

Dr. H. G. Enelow, formerly rabbi of Temple Israel, Paducah, but now rabbi of Adath Israel, Louisville, was significantly honored by his congregation electing him rabbi for ten years, an unprecedented action in the history of this church. Dr. Enelow's present salary of $5,000, will be continued for the next two years and then be increased to $6,000.

Rev. C. Overmeyer, D. D., of St. Louis, preached yesterday morning at the German Lutheran church on South Fourth street. It was a missionary service and Dr. Overmeyer delivered a strong sermon on missions.

The 31st anniversary of the organization of the Ladies' Mite society of the German Evangelical church was celebrated yesterday morning with appropriate services at this church.

At the St. Francis de Sales Catholic church All Saints' Day service will be held on Thursday as on Sunday, it being a church holiday. Friday, All Souls' Day, there will be mass at 7:30 a. m. only.

The Rev. Donald McDonald, of Danville, Ky., synodical superintendent, filled the pulpit of the Sixth and Kentucky avenue Presbyterian church yesterday morning and evening.

There will be services at 10:45 a. m. on Thursday at Grace Episcopal church in commemoration of All Saints' Day.

Fort Worth, Tex., Oct. 29.—After a debate between W. B. Silligman and Maurice Cornish, rival candidates for the legislature, during which gross personalities were indulged in, the principals engaged in a fist fight and both were badly punished.

Most of the lots front at each end on these roads. No other land in McCracken county. The 20 acres front on Hinkleville road has nice grove of forest trees on it and lays so as to make ideal residence sites.

Price on the Hinkleville road front is $100.00 per acre, of which $10 acre cash and balance in monthly or quarterly payments running five years. All other lots $65 acre on same terms. While these prices are uniform, there is difference in desirability of lots and first customers get choice. He claims that Billington on November 8, 1905, made the following statement: "Woodward, the picture man (meaning the plaintiff) went into my house and stole about $11 from me." Woodward sued once before but today the first petition was dismissed without prejudice and the second filed. Billington arrested Woodward when he suspected him of the theft, and was indicted for flourishing a gun about Woodward. The matter has been a complicated one. Billington lives in the county and is a cousin to the county school superintendent.

Extending the Parcels Post.
One of the serious questions to come before the next congress is the extension of the parcels service of the United States postoffice system. The extension is said to be backed by a powerful lobby maintained by the mail order houses of the great cities. Its success will mean serious injury, if not ruin to many retail stores in the country and the smaller cities.
On one side it is argued that the extension will be a great advantage to consumers and users, especially of dry goods, as it will enable them to purchase in their own homes at the prices charged in the larger cities and will save them the retailers' profit. On the other hand, it is contended that it is not fair to the retailer, who must pay the freight according to his distance from the centers, to supply his customers with goods at freight rates which are the same for a long distance as for a short one. The same 10-cent stamp which carries dress goods from New York to a town in New Jersey fifty miles away, will carry the same package to a town 2,000 miles away, but the storekeeper who must have his stock hauled 2,000 miles must pay for this distance.

To get to the bottom of the matter on a question of public policy, the retail dealer is necessary for the convenience and comfort of his neighborhood. He supplies at short notice and in small quantities and gives credit where it is needed and deserved, and he ought to have a fair chance as against his larger competitors in the great cities. It seems to us that the government has gone about as far as it should, with rural delivery and the present parcels post arrangements, in entailing the retailer's throat and attracting all the money of the country to the larger cities, and that in this respect it has reached a very good halting place.—Richmond News-Leader.

An Impudent Proposal.

Melba admires the independence of her fellow Australians, but on one occasion she had rather a pronounced experience with what she calls their "delightful independence." She had waited a long time for dinner at her hotel in a large mining town, and finally made sharp complaint to the waiter. "Well, m'am," said he coolly, "you might sing us a song to pass the time." This to a vocalist who one evening received $5,000 from William Waldorf Astor for singing four songs in his London mansion.

Theatrical Notes

AT THE KENTUCKY.

Friday—Sylvia Linden in "Her Own Way."

Saturday, Matinee and Night—"Piff, Paff, Pout."

Success of "Her Own Way."

There is no surer way of measuring the success of a play than by the ticket office receipts. Clyde Fitch's greatest play, "Her Own Way," was kept on the boards in New York and London for an entire season. The sign "standing room only" was the rule and not the exception during these long runs. One of the greatest reasons for the play's lasting success is the human quality it possesses to an unusual degree. The play is human, the characters are human, the story is one that grips and holds one's attention from the first scene of the children at their birthday party to their finale after the arrival of Georgiana's soldier lover. The production will be seen at the Kentucky theater Friday night.

B. C. Whitney's "Piff, Paff, Pout." "Bright, cheery, entrancing," is the description given by one of the eminent critics in an eastern paper, which spoke of B. C. Whitney's "Piff, Paff, Pout," to play here Saturday matinee and night.

"Piff, Paff, Pout," held the fane of New Yorkers two seasons ago for eight months or 286 performances at the Casino theater. The company this year is far superior to last season's, and the list of names looks well worth while: Henrietta Lee, Denman May, Emily Gardner, Charles P. Morrison, Olive Woolford, Charles M. Holly, Lulu McConnell, J. C. Mendall, Fannie Ide, Campbell McKinley, Lisle Woodcock and others, including the original American pony ballet, an olette of pretty, clever dancing girls whose gingers capers go far to make the ensemble number stunning.

The special song features include the following success: I'm the Ghost That Never Walked, Little, My Unkissed Man, Under the Goo-Goo Tree, Cordelia Malone, Dear Old Manhattan Isle, Dolly Dimple, Macaroni and others.

Zeb Jones won the money given away at The Kentucky Saturday night.
